

“We live in Virginia. When our parents passed away across the country in Portland, we did not know what to do. Thank goodness we found Gentle Disposition – not only did they clear everything, but they carefully packed and shipped special mementos we had accidentally overlooked.”

“After I lost my husband it was just too overwhelming for me to face what he left behind in our home and in storage. Gentle Disposition gave me so much relief by taking care of everything, and I did actually feel a little better knowing his things were going to help people.”
